

Current Rare, Out-of-Print, and Antiquarian

Listing Current as of 10-22-2009

This listing (alphabetical by author) does not represent all of the unique and scarce books in stock, only those that have been inventoried as of the above date. Please contact us for any title we may assist you in finding – it may be in stock.

For More Information or Images, Email

<mailto:mchuston@cox.net?subject=Online Book Listing>

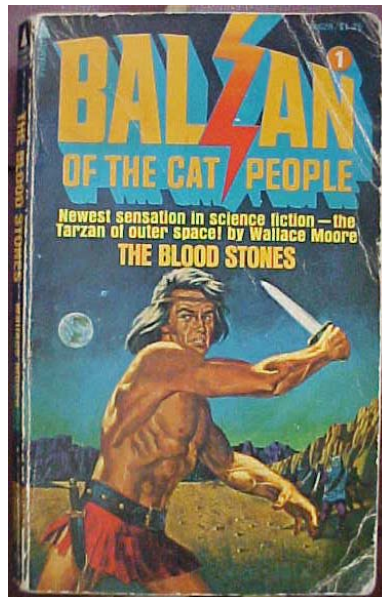

MOORE

Balzan of the Cat People

Date Published: 1975

Description: Balzan of the Cat People, The Blood Stones, by Wallace Moore; Pyramid NY; 1975. Wallace Moore is a penname of Gerard F. "Gerry" Conway (September 10, 1952 -), an American writer of comic books and television shows, best known for co-creating the Marvel Comics vigilante The Punisher (with artist Ross Andru) and scripting the death of the character Gwen Stacy during his long run on The Amazing Spider-Man. Book one in a three book series. Creasing at spine and cover. Tightly bound.

$35

Whitlatch

Gannon's Vendetta

Date Published: 1969

Description: Gannon's Vendetta, by John Whitlatch; Pocket Books, NY; 1969. Stated First Printing. Scarcely found and rarely offered title from the last of the pulp fiction authors, John Whitlatch. A very collectible copy of the first book in his Gannon series, taking on "animals on hopped up Harleys" who had raped his wife. Scarce title. Light creasing to cover. Back wrapper and final page loose but mended.

$75

--

Gannon's Line

Date Published: 1976

Description: Gannon's Line, by John Whitlatch; Pocket Books, NY; October 1976. Published after the death of the author. Scarcely found and rarely offered title from the last of the pulp fiction authors, John Whitlatch. A very collectible copy of the second book in his Gannon series, taking on "the sadistic genius who masterminded" an espionage ring with a secret base in the Baja. Scarce title. Light creasing to cover and spine.

$65

--

Lafitte's Legacy

Date Published: 1973

Description: Lafitte's Legacy, by John Whitlatch; Pocket Books, NY; March 1973. Scarcely found and rarely offered title from the last of the pulp fiction authors, John Whitlatch. A nicely kept copy of the book in which the last of the Lafittes has to defend the old treasure map from his ancestor. Scarce title. Light creasing to cover and spine.

$45

--

